RTJ Society “Passport” Program

Army Navy Country Club has been a member of the Robert Trent Jones Society since 2016. Invited to join because RTJ designed the original 18-hole course at Fairfax, the Club has been sending contingents to the Society’s annual event for the past six years. Recently ANCC expanded its Society involvement by joining its “Passport” golf reciprocity program. The following provides a detailed explanation of the program:

- The RTJS Passport Program is a “reciprocal play” program that allows members of an RTJS Passport Program participating club to play other RTJ Society Passport Program courses (normally at the “Accompanied Guest” rate).
- Program Management and Process: Quick, Simple and Smooth. Each participating Club controls its Passport access and price offerings including the days, tee times, group sizes, greens and cart fees. Each Club decides how it will advertise the Program to its own members.
- Key Role for Head Professional. Arrangements /reservations are to be made “Pro-to-Pro”, with the requesting Club Pro authenticating and providing its eligible members’ names and numbers for billing purposes (greens fees, restaurant, pro shop merchandise purchases, etc.) to the accepting Club Pro.¹ The Pros are asked to maintain and report to the RTJS at the “End of Year” usage data and recommendations for improving the overall program.
- Participating Clubs. The country clubs and golf clubs currently participating in the “Passport” program are:
 - Anglebrook Country Club Lincolndale NY
 - Army Navy Country Club Fairfax VA
 - Centre Hills Golf Club State College PA
 - Colgate University – Seven Oaks GC Hamilton NY
 - Club El Rincon de Cajica Bogota, Colombia
 - Duke University Golf Course Durham NC

¹ Per Patrick King: “The host club should have one account number for ANCC but the ANCC member will give their name, club number and club name. The host club will bill ANCC and ANCC will apply the charges to the member’s account.
